

A detailed map of central Rome, Italy, centered on the Tiber River. A blue line traces a path through the city, starting from the northwest near the Vatican Museums, passing through Rione XXII Prati, Rione VI Parione, Rione VII Regola, and Rione XII Ripa. The path ends near the Colosseum and the Terme di Caracalla. Numbered blue and green pins (1-17) are placed along the path and in various districts. Key landmarks include Piazza Navona, the Pantheon, the Colosseum, and the Vatican Museums. The map also shows the Tiber River, the Via del Corso, and the Via dei Fori Imperiali.
